Fair Is All Set for Opening; Weather 'Freshened' by Rain

LIKE A COUPLE OF CHIEFS RAIN-IN-THE-FACE, Ray Brandenburg, president of the Fair Board, and Frank E. Ellis, the secretary, stand outside the speed committee's office on the Fairground with smiles on their faces and say "rain, in moderation can be a very good thing" for the Fair. The Tuesday morning drizzle failed to dampen the enthusiasm and feverish preparations for the opening of the big exposition. The four-day race program starts Wednesday. Horsemen said the sprinkle would lay the dust. They had little fear of a rain-out because of the track's good drainage. (Record-Herald photo)

Spirits High As Displays Fill Ground

Light drizzles of rain and low-hanging clouds as the Fair neared its formal opening Tuesday may have dampened the Fairground and little to lay the dust, but there was certainly nothing to indicate that they had dampened the enthusiasm or the optimism of either the Fair directors or the exhibitors.

They might well have been singing that old song about "rain, rain go away and come again another week," instead, they had an attitude of "singin' in the rain."

Strange as it may seem, none seemed particularly disturbed by the shower and it was "open for business as usual" everywhere on the Fairground.

Ray Brandenburg, president of the board, and Frank E. Ellis, the secretary, stood in front of the speed committee's little office in the light rain and said: "We didn't order it (the rain) and there's nothing we can do about it, so why worry."

That of course was admittedly an exaggeration; they were concerned—but only if the rain continues.

Rain Can Be Good Thing

On the serious side, the directors and everyone else agreed that the rain, in moderation, would be a "very good thing for the Fair." The logic was along this line: People just don't like to go to the Fair when the weather is so sweltering-hot; a little rain will lay the dust and everyone would have a better time with cooler weather.

And, cooler weather there was Tuesday morning. The extended forecast was for continued cool for the rest of the week with scattered thundershowers. But these showers were not expected to lay down more than half an inch of rain during the five-day period, and that would not hurt a thing.

Out around the horse barns, there was a similar air of unconcern. And, to horsemen a muddy track can play havoc with harness racing.

But, the horsemen who know the track here figured it would take a lot of rain to halt racing because of the good drainage and texture of the racing strip. "It dries out fast," one horseman said without the slightest show of worry.

Through the Fairground, exhibitors were still coming in with their displays of everything from vegetables and needlework to livestock. Inside the buildings, others were putting the finishing (Please turn to Page Two)

Debate Is Started On Farm Program

WASHINGTON, July 24—(AP)—The Senate starts debate today on the fiscal 1952 department of agriculture appropriations bill. It calls for more than a billion dollars in cash and loans to finance federal farm programs.

The bill as approved by the Senate appropriations committee $45,000,000 bigger than the version passed by the House to finance the department in the year which started July 1.

Some main provisions of the Senate bill:

A ten percent payroll cut; $456,000,000 for the production and marketing administration; $280,000,000 for the "conservation and use" fund; $751,000,000 for cash items and $262,000,000 for loans and $109,000,000 for rural electrification.

Three young Washington C. H. girls have found the answer to showing off their hometown to visitors. Monday afternoon three girls here -- Jerry Bachelor, Wilma Brown and Judy Preston -- stopped at the Record-Herald with their visitor, Patty Robison of Fairborn. They toured the newspaper plant and they said they had been through the Court House and Jackson Grove Co. They talked about going from the Record-Herald to the fire department and the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. "We just wanted to show Patty some of our business and industries," one of the girls explained. Everywhere they went they said they were accorded hospitality.

It's still a pretty small world, and getting smaller every day.

For instance, take Carroll Halliday, who had two unusual experiences recently while he and his family were enjoying a vacation ramble through the west.

At Salt Lake City, where long ago the Mormon leader, Brigham Young saw the waste lands where Salt Lake City now stands and said:

"This is the place!"

Carroll was in a drug store and someone said:

"How are you, Mr. Halliday?" It was Donald Riber, who, with Robert McGinnis and two other young men, were enroute to Los Angeles by way of the Mormon city.

Then again at the little town of Hot Springs, Colo. where the Halliday family had registered at a motel for the night.

"How far are you from Frankfort?", asked the woman in charge of the office when she saw Carroll had registered from Washington C. H., O."

It developed that the woman was Mrs. Dorothy Fischer, daughter of the former Harriett Eldrich who at one time taught school in Washington C. H. while living at Frankfort, but who married and located in Colorado.

Mrs. Fischer told Carroll that Charles E. Eldrich of Frankfort and Glenn Baker of Williamsport are uncles of hers.

Race Entries Heavy--Ten Dashes Set Up

Ten dashes--ten separate races--are on the opening harness horse racing program for Wednesday at the Fair.

Because of the unexpectedly large number of entries, two of the races on the opening day's card had to be split and raced in two divisions. One was the 28 class trot and the other the 28 class pace.

Both divisions of the 28 class trot are to be raced Wednesday. One division of the 28 class pace will be raced Wednesday and the other Thursday.

That will make six dashes.

Besides there will be two dashes of the two-year-old pace and two dashes of the three-year-old trot.

The purses for the two split races were increased by 50 percent, to make the purse for each division $450.

Police Search For Tough Gang

Culprits Try To Kill Ross Countain

Officers are seeking a gang of young Chicago hoodlums who tried to kill John Panco, 17, of Muskogee Road (Ross County) by firing eight bullets into his car as he was backing from a garage.

The bullets were fired from a .25 automatic weapon and Panco escaped death by dropping to the floor when the first shot was fired.

Most of the bullets pierced the windshield.

Panco is under bond for robbing the D. & A. Meat Market in Chillicothe. He involved Robert Fuller, who was returned to Chicago as a parole violator.

Panco received threats from "The Gang" in Chicago, and Sunday night about 8:30 o'clock the gang tried to kill him.

The car containing four youths pulled up in front of Panco's car and opened fire, then dashed away.

Later it returned to a point near the scene, and Panco, in hiding, fired at them with a shotgun. The car drove rapidly away and vanished.

Officers were notified and started a search for the would-be assassins.

Fair Set for Opening

touches on the arrangement of their products.

By Monday evening, the Fairground was packed with tents, trailers and the "outside exhibits" of farm machinery and equipment. There really was not much left to be done.

The Midway, bigger and more colorful than ever just as had been ballyhooed, was up and ready for the first of the fun-seekers. The Midway, of course, includes the scores of small concessions as well as the big rides and shows. Everyone in that five-acre area was just taking it easy and waiting for the crowds to come.

By Tuesday evening, the Fair will be ready for the week's run. The first thing on the Fair Week program--the actual opening of the 1951 Fair--comes at 8 P. M. (tonight) Tuesday when Ward Beam's Daredevils put on their automobile and motorcycle thrill show in front of the grandstand.

The Daredevils will give another performance Wednesday night.

The rest of the Night Fair will bring the Cavalcade of Stars, a rodeo and circus entertainment, in front of the grandstand Thursday and Friday and the WLW Midwestern Hayride Saturday. There will be a show starting each night at 8 o'clock but the Hayride also will be given at 6:30 P. M. Saturday for the regular radio broadcast which is to originate here.

Racing Starts Wednesday

The four-day harness racing program starts Wednesday at 2 P. M. with four races on each afternoon's card.

Elsewhere on the Fairground, there will be judging of the more than 3,000 exhibits nearly all week.

The three highlights of the Junior Fair, which has been given extra emphasis this year, are: the Fashion Revue Wednesday night, the Talent Revue Thursday night and the Livestock Sale Friday night. Virtually all of the Junior Fair activities will be held in a special area set aside for it back of the grandstand and near the livestock pens and barns.

Grain Market

CHICAGO, July 24.—(P)—Rye led a smart up swing at the Board of Trade today, advancing around five cents at times, while other grains followed in a more modest manner.

Observers said the bulk of the buying was by shorts who had become dissatisfied with the progress of the cease fire talks.

Fed grains advanced with rye and wheat, and soybeans and oil reflected a better cottonseed oil market.

The World Today

BY JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON, July 24—(AP)—Senator Morse has an idea which is getting nowhere fast. This Oregon Republican has offered Congress the same idea yearly since 1947. It's been chilled to death, regularly.

He suggests Congress pass a law compelling all its members to list as a public record all their income—in addition to their congressional pay—and where they got it.

Although a nose gets punched occasionally in Congress, the members otherwise are pretty considerate of one another's feelings and even have rules against name-calling.

Congress digs into other people's money background. But you never hear a member ask one of his fellows if, by any chance, he's plugging something or opposing it because he has a financial interest in the outcome.

Morse calls his proposal, which is in the form of a bill, his "Caesar's Wife" bill, meaning that members of Congress, like Caesar's wife, should be beyond reproach.

Not every member, of course, is always beyond reproach. There have been some senatorial recent examples: J. Parnell Thomas, New Jersey Republican, and Andrew J. May, Kentucky Democrat.

Both were found guilty by federal juries and served jail terms. Thomas, who was head of the House Un-American activities committee, got six to 18 months. He did not contest charges of padding his office payroll and accepting salary kickbacks from his staff. May, one-time head of the old House military affairs committee, got eight months to two years after conviction for taking bribes.

They served their time. Another House member, Walter E. Brehm, Ohio Republican, was convicted of accepting $1,000 in campaign gifts from a clerk in his office. He was fined $5,000 but is appealing the verdict.

Briefly, this is what Morse suggests:

All members of Congress (their basic salary is $12,500 a year); and all U. S. judges and government employees with salaries of $9,000 a year or more, must fill out every year a statement on:

All their income during the preceding year, including fees, salaries, royalties, income from trusts and estates, dividends, or income derived from a law firm or partnership, and the names of the clients; and all dealings in securities or commodities.

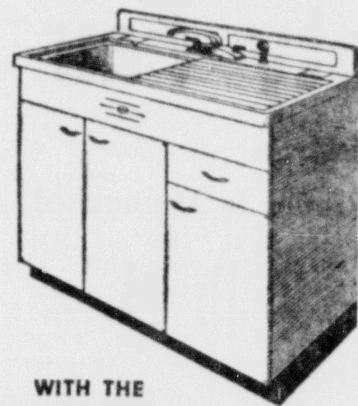

Morse recently explained to a Senate committee why he offered this bill:

"When men and women enter the field of public service they might just as well face the reality that they have entered a glass house and that they are going to be subject to scrutiny and inspection.

"I think it is much better to have a full disclosure of the sources and amounts of one's income when he is in public service as a matter of public record than to have our system of government and our public servants whitened away at by smear campaigns, smear attacks, and vicious rumors about what and who influenced their position on various issues because of economic considerations. x x x"

Curb on Gas Use Hit By Appliance Makers

WASHINGTON, July 24—(AP)—A group of gas appliance manufacturers today asked Gov. Frank J. Lausche of Ohio to oppose any federal freeze of natural gas on grounds such a freeze would threaten state sovereignty.

H. Leigh Whitelaw, managing director of the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association, telegraphed the request to Lausche. "The manufacturers, distributors and dealers of the gas appliance and equipment industry and thousands of craftsmen in allied industries have contended (the) proposed ban is unnecessary because states have long demonstrated their ability to issue regulatory orders whenever necessary in the public interest," Whitelaw said.

The Petroleum Administration for Defense (PAD) has proposed banning the use of gas in new homes and new industries. The state Public Utilities Commission of Ohio already has set up a similar freeze in Ohio.

Representatives of Public Utility Commissions of 16 states testified on the proposed freeze at a PAD meeting in Washington last week. Ohio's commission said it was willing to go along with the national freeze with certain reservations.

Man Goes Berserk In Domestic Row

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., July 24—(AP)—A Crawfordsville restaurant owner stood off police for three hours in pre-dawn gunfight running from window to window and firing wildly.

His gun jammed, John M. Culver, 45, was found crouching in the basement of his home, bleeding from wounds of 20 shotgun pellets. Ten tear gas bombs were thrown into the house, ringed by city and state police and sheriff's deputies before Culver surrendered.

He was taken to hospital, where attendants said he would recover. He was held without charge under guard.

Culver's wife called police shortly after midnight to report he was threatening to kill her in a quarrel over her two children by a previous marriage.

Soda Pop Price May Be Boosted

WASHINGTON, July 24—(AP)—Nickle-a-bottle soda pop soon may be only a memory.

The Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) today authorized soft drink bottlers to boost their prices to retailers to a top of 96 cents a case.

This probably will mean an increase to six cents a bottle at retail on the beverages whose bot-

In the trade it was reported unofficially that Coca-Cola will stick to its present price. However, some other large companies do plan to change, OPS spokesmen reported.

The new ceiling applies to both six ounce and 12 ounce bottles, effective July 28.

Non-National Army Is Proposed by Ike

WASHINGTON, July 24—(AP)—A senator just returned from Europe said today Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower wants to form a non-national army under a single flag and command to defend Western Europe.

Senator Brewster (R-Maine), one of nine members of the Senate foreign relations committee who returned today from an inspection trip to Europe, quoted Eisenhower as saying he is "going all out" in support of this idea.

The British oppose the Eisenhower plan, Brewster said. He added that he was told France and western Germany are near agreement, however, on the general principles of single-uniform army. Eisenhower was given the task of building a western European defense force. The original thought was that each nation would contribute troops but they would retain their national uniforms. The administration proposes to put six U. S. divisions into the force.

Is a Federal Sales Tax In the Offing, too?

According to information coming out of Washington D. C. one of the next propositions to get more tax money, to be seriously considered is a federal sales tax.

Money is being spent so fast down at Washington D. C. that in spite of the fact that incoming revenue to the government is far beyond earlier prediction, and at an all-time high, the administration bureaus, commissions and other spenders have just about run out of sources to tap for more tax revenue.

That is the reason that some thought is being given to a sales tax for the federal government.

The chairman of the Senate finance committee has indicated that he hopes his committee will not approve any sales tax proposal "this year". It is definitely in the background of federal thinking, however.

It is said that two programs are in the offing. One would place the tax at the manufacturer's level or the retailer. The other would be a straight-out transaction tax with the buyer putting his pennies on the counter.

All the argument on sales taxes generally apply with redoubled force to the federal plan. It hits the small purchaser harder in proportion to his buying power than it hits the well-to-do. But the biggest single stride in meeting the whole issue goes untaken.

We would not have to be plowing up the backyard looking for hidden treasure if the boys in the White House bureaus and commissions, would decide to stop throwing money away. If every department would quit hiring unnecessary employees, redistribute its work load to see that everyone on the payroll now is doing a full day's work for a full day's pay, and eliminate the drones from the federal roster, we would be able to get along better than we are getting along right now without putting the government bite on every dollar earned by the sweat of the average citizen's brow.

There should be a tighter rein pulled on military spending for alleged "defense" purpose. The people want adequate and efficient defense, but they grow tired of some of the financial waste that is apparent in this department also.

Russia Fools Britons

Four groups of Britons, including teachers, industrial workers, students and miners, have gone to Russia on vacations this year, with other groups continuing the tours. They are lavishly entertained in Russia and taken on whirlwind tours of the best factories, homes and rest centers.

British officials condone the tours or at least do not oppose them, but many Britons regard the results as deplorable. "These simple people", said one British spokesman, "have the wool pulled over their eyes—then come back and talk about the land of milk and honey."

One group of 53 British workers came back lauding the life behind the iron curtain. A steelworker said: "In all my 38 years I have never eaten such good meals."

With France 25 percent Communist, Italy almost as strongly so and many British labor leaders disposed to slaver over the Moscow Reds, this British propaganda for Russia is not too assuring as to the future defense of Western Europe. The more the British and the Russians get together, the unhappier the free West will be.

Rainmakers Denial

Rainmakers have been quick to deny the implication in a statement by Senator Case of South Dakota that their efforts may have been responsible for the Kansas-Missouri floods. They say they are good, but not that good. The South Dakota solon called for an investigation to determine whether the modern rainmakers are to blame, and for legislation to regulate rainmaking.

There's No Thrill Like an Alarm

CHICAGO (P)—Give me a smoky basement fire to tangle with and you can keep your baseball games and television.

I'll never hope for a fire, but when the engines dash by you can bet your boots I'll grab mine and take off for the blaze, pulling on my firecoat and hat.

I'm a fire buff. I like to go to fires and grab a hose line and follow firemen into a "ripe" working fire.

Any buff worth his boots will bolt from bed on a wintry morning to take in an extra alarm blaze.

Bufs got their name from the horse-drawn steamer days when fire engine chasers huddled in buffalo robes at fires in sub-zero temperatures. We also are known as "fire fans," "sparks," and "red hots."

Many of us frustrated firemen have fire alarm registers or radios next to our beds. We keep our boots and coats nearby.

Like any buff whose eyes glisten as the sirens set up a crescendo of wails I take plenty of abuse from smoke and heckling friends.

Why do I chase fire engines? I don't know. Can you explain why you memorize batting averages?

Best answer a fire buff gives to the raised eyebrow is, "show me a guy who doesn't like to watch a fire or the drama of a 100-foot aerial ladder truck threading through traffic and I'll show you a bore."

On my days off I often head for a busy fire station where friendly firemen always welcome another hand.

Comes bedtime and you arrange your boots and trousers near your bed in the upstairs bunkroom. The clatter of the telegraph key and ding-a-ding of the register sounding alarms in other parts of the city lulls you into semi-sleep.

Then it hits. The bunkroom lights snap on. The waker alarm bell orders you out of bed and into your boots.

Grab for the pole and slide down. Scurm into your coat and reach for the back rail of the rig. Swing aboard as the 1,000 gallon pumper eases itself out of the station. You're on your way to another blaze.

I've gone to at least 200 fires since I became a buff. Some were minor, others were tragic.

I've choked on smoke at tenement house fires and waded through water at a four-alarm blaze in Chicago's stockyards. I've seen fires in New York, Buffalo, Washington, D. C., and Toronto, Ont.

When I visited Europe last summer I took in fires in London, Paris, Stockholm, and Copenhagen with foreign fire chiefs.

One Christmas I helped carry the body of a priest from a blazing rectory at a two-alarm fire in Buffalo. Last winter I watched helplessly with my firemen pals while eight persons dropped into the flames during a five-alarm fire in a Chicago hotel.

Bufs in many cities have formed clubs complete with fire museums and stations where they keep siren and bell-equipped trucks ready to roll on all second alarms to serve coffee to tired firemen.

Next time the fire equipment clangs by, look closely. The fellow clinging to the hook and ladder may be your local banker, a prominent lawyer or the corner grocer -- all good buffs and good firemen, too.

U. S. Helped Make Japan Mighty

By George Sokolsky

No nation in Asia, in the 19th or 20th century, reached the position of dignity and might equal to Japan prior to 1945. Not as large as the state of California, the Japanese built and held for a short period, from 1895 to 1945, a vast and effectively administered area in Asia from the Kurile Islands into the South Seas and Korea and Manchuria on the mainland of Asia.

From 1853 to 1911, the United States assisted in the building of Japan. It was largely loans from American banks that helped to create and expand Japan's industry. Russian imperialism in Manchuria caused the United States in 1899 to issue the John Hay "Open Door Policy," which strengthened Japan indirectly because it arrested the Russian advance in Manchuria. As a result of Anglo-American support of Japan, in 1902, the Anglo-Japanese alliance was formulated. This was the first recognition of an east Asian people as an equal by any western power. The Anglo-Japanese alliance was one of the most constructive arrangements in Asiatic affairs and it was a pity that American influences after World War I brought it to an end.

In 1904, Japan went to war with Russia, receiving the moral and financial support of the United States. (At that time, the financial support consisted of loans from private banks.) Japan won that war by the treaty of Portsmouth, New Hampshire. Theodore Roosevelt, who was then president, taking the position that a strong Japan was essential to the peace of east Asia. For that peace was even then imperilled by the aggressive imperialism of Russia and the weakness and disorganization of China. Theodore Roosevelt, who was influenced in his thinking by John Hay, Henry Cabot Lodge, and Elihu Root, moved soundly in Asiatic affairs.

About 1911, an agitation developed against the Japanese in California, led by the McClatchys of the Sacramento "Bee." This had to do with the ownership of land in California and produced a race-prejudice which affected not only Japanese, but all the peoples of eastern Asia, Chinese, Filipinos, Hindus, etc. Its counterpart in Asia was a violent and growing anti-Americanism.

For this is an axiom in human history: race prejudice begets race prejudice. No people will voluntarily admit inferiority, because of blood and color, to any other people. Much of the antagonism which the United States is now encountering in Asia has its origin in the anti-Oriental agitation and legislation by Congress and by the legislatures of several western states 40 years and more ago.

So during the 1920's and 1930's the relations between Japan and the United States deteriorated. On September 18, 1931, Japan invaded and eventually conquered Manchuria and the lower Yangtze Valley of China. This is the effectual beginning of World War II, for it guaranteed that eventually the United States would make military efforts to rescue China. Chiang Kai-Shek, however, had to wait a decade before the United States came in.

About one week before that war was over, and after the Japanese had tried to find a way to peace, Soviet Russia entered that war and, by the terms of the Yalta agreement, received as compensation all that Japan had prevented Russia from accomplishing by four wars and a policy of constant and violent militarization.

The Japanese accepted defeat with characteristic fatalism. They assumed the worst. However, the United States sent General Douglas MacArthur to Japan as proconsul, who, instead of treating this nation as a conquered foe, set out to rebuild it as a bulwark against Soviet Russia. It is this magnanimous policy which is now incorporated in the Dulles treaty.

The Japanese recognized the historic significance of MacArthur's role and banded themselves to it. Unlike some of the European countries which regarded the Marshall plan as weakness and the assistance in their reconstruction provided by the United States as selfishly motivated, the Japanese were grateful that they had been saved from the fate of China and cooperated faithfully with MacArthur, hoping that the world situation would so turn on its axis that Japan would be restored to national integrity.

And so, in accordance with the Dulles treaty, Japan's industry and her military power will be restored and Japan will take the place which she should never have lost. It will be a great day for Asia when Japan is again the bulwark of civilization against Soviet Russia. (Copyright, 1951, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

High Blood Pressure Has No Specific Cure

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

We have no specific cure for the most common variety of high blood pressure because we do not know its cause. Most patients with this condition are high-strung, many are overweight; thus, the usual treatment consists in the use of quieting drugs, plus weight reduction. Surgery has been used with good results in certain instances, but this form of treatment is not suitable in the majority of cases.

In recent years, much work has centered around the use of special diets in an effort to see whether or not certain foods have an effect on the blood pressure.

Perhaps the most promising of these is the rice diet, in which the patient is allowed from 250 to 350 grams of rice daily, plus fruit juices, sugars, and vitamins. This diet provides about 2,000 calories a day, with a minimum of fat and protein. Other some iron-containing preparation is given to guard against anemia. About a quart of water is allowed daily.

The effective factor in this diet is that it keeps the intake of sodium to a minimum. This is evidenced by the fact that when the patients increased the amount of sodium intake in the form of salt, the blood pressure rose immediately.

Thirteen of the group of 36 patients, in whom there were X-ray evidences of heart enlargement, showed a decrease in the enlargement. There was little improvement in the electrocardiograms or eye changes that accompany high blood pressure.

All of the patients on the diet lost weight. Most patients objected to the diet as being somewhat monotonous and hard to adhere to. However, the rice diet has proved effective in helping to reduce the blood pressure of those having a severe form of this condition.

breasts painful before menstruation?

Answer: Pain in the breasts, which occur just before the menstrual periods, has been thought to be due to some disturbance in the glands of internal secretion; possibly a lack of ovarian secretion.

In treating this condition, it has been suggested that ovarian residue be employed in doses of 15 grains daily, starting from ten to fifteen days before the onset of menstruation is expected. However, such treatment as this should always be carried out under the direction of the physician, of course.

Stinson-Hughes Wedding Event Of Saturday

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Stinson, 215 East Union Street, Circleville are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Charmie Lee, to Pvt. William B. Hughes, 1120 Washington Avenue this city.

The wedding was an event of Saturday July 21 and took place in Jeffersonville, Indiana at 11:55 A. M. with Rev. R. L. Spann officiating at the double ring ceremony in the Methodist Parsonage. Attendants for the couple were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stephens of Circleville brother-in-law and sister of the bride.

White accessories accented the pale pink French voile street length dress worn by the bride, which was designed with a jewelry neckline and her corsage was white carnations. Mrs. Stephens was wearing an ice blue French voile dress with a sweetheart neckline and her accessories were white.

Her corsage was white carnations and was similar to the bride's.

The bride, a graduate of Circleville High School, is presently employed as secretary in the office of the General Electric Company in Circleville. The groom is a graduate of Washington C. H. High School, attended Ohio State University prior to his induction into the armed forces and is stationed at Fort Knox, Ky.

The bride will reside temporarily with her parents and the bridegroom returned to his base Sunday evening.

On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Tim Hughes and daughter Martha, parents and sister of the bridegroom entertained at a wedding dinner and included members of the immediate family and in the afternoon a reception was held for the families and close friends.

The reception table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake flanked with arrangements of gladioli and other summer flowers.

a beautiful setting on the front lawn and terrace which was lighted with Japanese lanterns.

Early in the evening punch was served from a bowl on the terrace with tall evergreen trees as a backdrop. Rustic furniture on the lawn added to the comfort of the guests.

Later delicious fried chicken and baked ham and the accompanying viands were served buffet style from the dining room table and again the guests found themselves in congenial groups on the terrace and lawn for the pleasant supper hour with the tall trees affording shelter from the light rainfall.

Mr. Hugh Sollars was the symposiarch for the evening. Mr. Max Dice who was to have presented the program announced that due to the social meeting, the program would be postponed until the next meeting in August.

James Garringer Is Honored at Picnic Supper

Mr. James E. Garringer was complimented on his birthday anniversary when employees of the Garringer Manufacturing Company arranged a delightful picnic at the Johnson's Crossing Roadside Park. After a pleasant supper hour, Mr. Garringer received a Parker desk set from the group.

Those participating in the event were Mrs. Garringer, son Jeffrey, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Sanders and family, Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Eckle and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Akins and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Curry and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Kilgore and family, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Skiles, Mr. James Wissinger, Miss Mildred Wackman, Mr. James Wackman, Jr., Mr. Bliss Cochran, Mr. and Mrs. G. It's amazing how quickly you can lose unsightly fat at home. Obtain liquid Rennel at your druggist, mix with grapefruit juice as directed and take two tablespoonsfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it. If you do not lose weight with the very first bottle just return it for your money back. You need never know a hungry moment while reducing with Rennel.

State Patrol Is Needing Men

Applications To Be Filed Wednesday

Men interested in the service of the Ohio State patrol as a career may apply for one of the 80 positions as patrolmen which should be filled this year, Col. George Mingle, superintendent said Tuesday.

Unit 63 will be at the city building here Wednesday from 7 P. M. until 9 P. M. to receive applications and answer questions.

This unit is composed of Cpl. D. L. Osborn and Patrolman John H. Wyatt.

Application forms may be obtained by contacting in person the nearest patrol post, which in this area is located at Wilmington.

Those applications received within the next few weeks will be processed for the 32nd Patrol Training School, scheduled to open August 13, Col. Mingle stated.

Applicants must be 21 to 35 years of age, American citizens and residents of the State of Ohio for five years preceding application. Other prerequisites include graduation from an accredited high school or equivalent scholastic training. A minimum height and weight 5 foot 8 inches and 165 pounds, respectively, is required.

Patrol training schools are conducted at Columbus for periods of 10 weeks. Recruits are paid $164.00 a month while attending the school with uniforms, quarters and meals furnished.

After completion of the training period, patrolmen are paid a beginning salary of $300 per month and advance to $360 per month at the end of five years of service.

Col. Mingle stated that those

Rep. Brown To Be Subject of Broadcast

Clarence J. Brown, former representative for Fayette County and other counties in the seventh congressional district in the national house of representatives, will be the subject of a personality sketch to be broadcast over WLW, Cincinnati at 10:45 P. M. Friday.

The program is devoted to personalities in government and has told about the lives of such outstanding men as Eric Johnston, Michael DiSalle, John Davis Small, Censor Bridges and various other members of the cabinet.

The story, written by the WLW correspondent in Washington, tells of the youth of the Buckeye lawmaker and his climb to positions of influence both in Ohio and in the nation's capital.

The sketch goes on to tell of the congressman's work as a newsboy, rural mail carrier and ultimately, his first law case at the age of 17.

A telegram announcing the program, was received late Monday afternoon from Dick Gillespie of radio station WLW.

men who apply now will be the first of an additional 250 patrolmen needed to bring the patrol ranks to its authorized strength.

Displays Set for Fair By 4-H Garden Club

The goal toward which they have been working for months today was just around the corner for the Happy Hoers and Growers when they took their vegetable plate exhibits to the Fair.

At their last meeting, they had their record books checked by the advisors and put the finishing touches on their plans for making their displays.

Demonstrations were given by Sue Minshall, George Burke, Joan Bonham, Robert Jenkins, Clara Ellen Mathews and Frances Wilson for participation in the Fair Talent Show.

The club's advisors are Mrs. Mose Wilson, Mrs. Catherine Jenkins and Mrs. Willard Minshall.

Plans were made for the club to get together again after the Fair but no date was set. After that there will be a short interlude before starting on projects for next year.

Balloon Sent Up in New York Lands Near City

Weather Equipment
Hissses to Earth
On Wilson Farm

Monday morning while Edgar Wilson, living on the Miami Trace Road, a half mile north of the Leesburg Road, was at work, he heard a hissing noise in the sky. Looking up, he was startled to see a shining object with a long streamer, falling to earth.

A few moments later, the object struck the ground with a heavy thud, and Wilson immediately started to investigate.

The object fell in a field containing some hogs, within a few yards of where Wilson had parked his tractor a short time before.

He found a foil-covered wooden box, containing some instruments, to which was attached a bursted plastic balloon which must have been more than 20 feet in diameter, and a nylon parachute, which had failed to open.

The box was not badly damaged by its impact with the earth, and the whole outfit was retrieved by Wilson, who had difficulty rolling up the bursted balloon and loading it into a truck.

Attached to the box was a card from New York University, asking the finder to take good care of the equipment and to wire the university for shipping instructions.

A reward of $10 was offered if the finder followed the instructions and shipped the box to the university.

It was stated that the equipment was sent up to obtain weather information, and that it was "flight 52".

How long the equipment had been aloft and how high it had gone must be determined by the instruments in the box when they are checked at the university.

Since it is approximately 600 miles from where the outfit was sent up to the point where it landed, the balloon made a long journey. It was probably buffeted back and forth by air currents at high altitudes, so that in all it might have traveled several times 600 miles.

It is the first equipment of its kind ever found in the county. Different type weather instruments sent up by nearby air bases have been found many times in the county, however.

Prices of Clothing Likely To Be Upped

WASHINGTON, July 24—(AP)—Higher prices on some clothing, especially woollens, were permitted today under a ruling of the Office of Price Stabilization (OPS).

The OPS also lifted a 23-day freeze on wearing apparel ceiling prices. The freeze was ordered June 30 on a long list of clothing items. It followed a congressional move banning price rollbacks during July while Congress worked on new economic controls legislation.

The ceiling price rises in ap-

County Fair Here First To Receive Ohio's New Hearing Unit Service

THE NEW STATE HEALTH DEPARTMENT'S mobile Hearing Unit to be in service at the Fayette County Fair.

The first county fair in Ohio to obtain the new state Hearing Conservation Unit is the annual Fayette County Fair.

The county health department here has secured the services of this mobile unit from the Ohio Department of Health to give the people of this county, who so desire, the opportunity to obtain free hearing tests.

Two hearing consultants have been assigned by the state department to be here with this hearing unit to give expert attention to the tests. They are Marion Ausherman and Betty Shaight.

Representatives of the county health department say that hearing authorities declare from three to 10 percent of the population have some hearing loss. They further state that it has been estimated that half of these could have escaped such hearing loss if they had received proper medical attention when they were children.

According to the Ohio Department of Health, about 60,000 Ohio school children have some degree of hearing loss. Childhood diseases such as measles, mumps, whooping cough, and scarlet fever can affect hearing, health authorities said. Ear wax, infected tonsils and adenoids and the common cold are frequent causes of hearing impairments.

Unit's Special Equipment
Extremely quiet conditions are needed to test a person's hearing. Such conditions are not always available in the school where a majority of hearing testing is done. For this reason, a mobile sound-treated hearing testing trailer was constructed. This trailer is 25 feet long and is especially insulated to reduce noise. It has been equipped with special instruments for hearing testing and hearing aid evaluation. Its attractive furnishings and color scheme create a pleasant atmosphere for children.

The trailer has been especially designed and constructed to insure a quiet place for hearing testing. It is stated that the local health department may request the use of the trailer for testing the hearing of children in schools where quiet facilities are not available. In addition, the trailer may be used for hearing clinics and research in hearing testing.

Nurses from the Fayette County Health Department will assist consultants from the Ohio Department of Health to administer hearing tests in the trailer to people attending the Fayette County Fair. Group testing equipment will make it possible to test ten people at one time. As additional assistance and time are needed when testing groups of children, it is suggested that children under 10 years of age not be tested at this time.

Long Jaunt Taken By Lady Turtle

SANTA BARBARA, Calif.—(AP)—It takes four hours, 10 minutes to reach Tacoma, Wash., by commercial airline.

It takes 18 hours by car, averaging 60 miles an hour. It took Bill, a lady turtle, seven months. Nobody knows whether she went by the shortest route, made any stopovers, or hitched any rides.

Bill's amazing journey came to light when Santa Barbara police received a letter from H. F. Roufs, of Dempsey Mill Road, Tacoma. It said: "Dear Sirs: The Tacoma Chamber of Commerce tells me that you have an Ashley Road in your city. It couldn't be possible that a large turtle we found on the road here painted in red and white '119 Ashley Rd.' meandered here, could it?"

Yes, Bill belonged at that address and the owner was pleased to hear she was safe. Plans were made immediately to bring Bill back to her grieving mate, Willie.

Four Top Teams In AL To Meet

Only One Game Played Monday

By JOE REICHLER
(By The Associated Press)
Attention Will Harridge, president of the American League:

How about handing a bonus to the fellow who made out that dream turnstile schedule?

Either the guy is blessed with uncanny foresight or else he is just plain lucky. How else could he have mapped out a schedule that brings together the four top teams today and right on through the next seven games?

Specifically, the pace-setting Yankees and the red hot Cleveland Indians battle it out for the league lead today, tomorrow and Thursday. At the same time, the Boston Red Sox, tied with the Indians for second place, slug it out with the fourth-place Chicago White Sox.

On Friday they switch, Chicago comes to the Yankee Stadium for a four-game series while Cleveland travels to Boston for a three-game set at Fenway Park. Is that top notch schedule making or not?

TODAY'S CARD PITS New York's Vic Raschi (13-6) against Cleveland's Early Wynn (10-9) and Chicago's Howie Judson (4-2) against Boston's Maury McDermott (5-5) or Leo Kiely (2-0).

The Yankee-Indians game is an afternoon affair. The Red Sox and White Sox clash under the lights. At present, only two percentage points separate the Yankees from the deadlocked Indians and Red Sox. The Yankees are playing .609 ball, the Indians and Red Sox .607.

All four managers are optimistic, even Paul Richards of the sagging White Sox.

Only one game was played in the majors yesterday and that was a real slugfest. The Boston Braves nipped the Pirates 15-14, under the lights at Pittsburgh. The Braves scored the winning run in the eighth when Roy Hartsfield singled pinch runner Sibby Sisti home. Ralph Kiner hit his 25th homer for Pittsburgh.

The National League's eastern teams swing into the west today, with Brooklyn holding an 8½-game lead. The Dodgers open at Chicago. Other pairings find New York at Pittsburgh, Boston at Cincinnati and Philadelphia at St. Louis. The Dodger-Cub tilt is the only day game in the National.

Rifes Beat NCR With Late Spree

It looked like the Rifes were going to get a run for their money for the first four innings of their Liniment League "bigball" game at Wilson Field Monday night—they lowered the boom in the fifth and put across 4 runs to ice the game.

When it was over, they held a 10-2 victory over the NCR outfit. Harry Townsend, with 3 hits in 4 trips, provided the heavy artillery for the winners. J. Martindale did his best for the NCR as he duplicated Townsend's efforts, but it was not enough.

The NCR crew got plenty of hits, but couldn't cash in on them.

Golf's 19th Hole Here

Championship Tournament Coming Up Soon
And Pro's Notebook Shows Good Scores

With the field in the annual handicap golf tournament at the Country Club now dwindling through the orderly process of elimination, the groundwork is now being laid for championship tournament flights.

All flight winners are to receive trophies in this tournament in which every player is strictly on his own without benefit of handicap. The only break they get is the division of the entrants into flights with golfers of comparable ability, as shown by their handicaps.

In last week's tournament matches Fred Woollard beat E. J. Tannehill 2 up; John Petty beat Joe Tillett 5 and 3; Rolland Chase beat George Tanner 5 and 4; Ben Wright beat Dr. Joseph Herbert 2 up; Bill Fink beat A. E. Weatherly 4 and 2; Marvin Thornburg beat Frank Truitt 1 up on 20 holes; Ronnie Cornwell beat Bud Schlue 2 up; Russ Kerr beat Gene McLean 3 and 2; Harold Hyer beat Russ Kerr 2 up; Bob Wise beat Ralph Douglass 6 and 5; John Petty beat 2 and 2; and John Petty beat Dr. F. D. Woollard 3 and 2.

To qualify for the championship flight, a 36-hole medal score must be turned in by Aug. 1.

The regular "Ladies Day" of golf in the morning and luncheon at noon is scheduled for Wednesday. Mrs. Wayne Shobe is taking the reservations.

The next dance at the Country Club has been set for Sept. 15, with the same band.

THIS AND THAT from the notebook of Pro Tony Capuana:
Dr. Byers Shaw made the "shot of the week" when he sank a 60-foot approach on the No. 9 green for a birdie 4.

Dick O'Brien, a husky former WHS football and basketball player, hit a 275-yard drive off the No. 2.

Armbrust Rally Too Much for VFW

The VFW was rolling along at a merry clip and had piled up a 5-1 lead in the first five innings before the Armbrusters cut loose with a 6-run spree in the last two frames that gave them a 7-5 victory in Monday night's Recreation League game at Wilson Field.

A 4-run outburst in the sixth put the Armbrusters on even terms with the VFW and B. Woods poled a long home run in the seventh to grab the lead and win the game.

Jack Rettig smacked a home run for the VFW.

By odd coincidence, each team got exactly as many runs as it did hits.

Three Games On Wednesday

State Champions Here for Twin Bill

Washington C. H. softball fans are going to have an opportunity to see a preview of the State Softball Tourney Wednesday evening when the state champs, Hamilton Champion Paper Co., take on two teams in a doubleheader at Wilson Field.

Wednesday evening will also be "Bargain Night" with three games on the evening's card.

The first game will be between the Post Office and the Rotary, of the "bigball" Liniment League, starting at 6:30 P. M.

Then the state champs will take on two of the Recreation League teams; the first game with the league-leading W. C. French team and the second with the Welders. The first of these two games will probably get under way about 7:30 P. M.

Both of the league teams are planning to have on hand a couple of outstanding hurlers from the district and the teams are in good shape to back them up.

Some of the Washington C. H. fans had a chance to see the state Champs in action Saturday evening when they played at Sabina. They won that game by a 6 to 3 score.

No word has been received as to who will take over the mound duties for the Champs, but it will be either Frank Turner, eight wins and no losses, Wad Fannin, 12 wins and two losses, or Mel Fields, 10 wins and one loss, with two no-hitters on the books.

Slow-down in College Spots Urged To Halt Overemphasis

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., July 24—(P)—Ten key men in the collegiate sports world yesterday urged a slow-down in college sports.

They said "undesirable trends" have developed "a regimented program of such intensity in the training of athletic techniques as to overshadow the student-status of the player."

The call for a slow-down came in a policy statement adopted at the annual meeting of the National Association of Collegiate Commissioners (NACC), representing the nation's ten major collegiate athletic conferences.

They said college sports leaders ought to slam on the brakes because the "undesirable trends" are impairing "the ideal of college athletics as a healthy activity outlet for the students."

The public, alumni and others were asked by the NACC to understand "that the continued existence of college athletics depends upon the maintenance of a sane and sound balance in the life of the student athlete under which he must be a student primarily and an athlete incidentally."

Conferences represented in the NACC are the Eastern, Western (Big Ten), Big Seven, Missouri Valley, Southern, Southeastern, Southwest, Mountain States (Sky-line Eight), Border and Pacific Coast.

NEWest

Ford built a completely new car while other makers were merely changing style. The result is that Ford alone, in the low-price field offers you such up-to-date engineering features as a frame with five cross members, for strength, durability, long life... an Automatic Mileage Maker, for getting the last mile of power from your gas... and dozens of other "Look Ahead" features.

ROOMiest

Ford's Victoria is the smoothest car of its type among all low-priced makes. It offers more window area... more room... more shoulder room... more luggage room. And you'll also discover that Ford alone in its field offers big car ride and comfort features like: Automatic Ride Control that automatically adjusts ride to the road, and Automatic Posture Control that automatically slides the front seat forward to just-right height and angle.

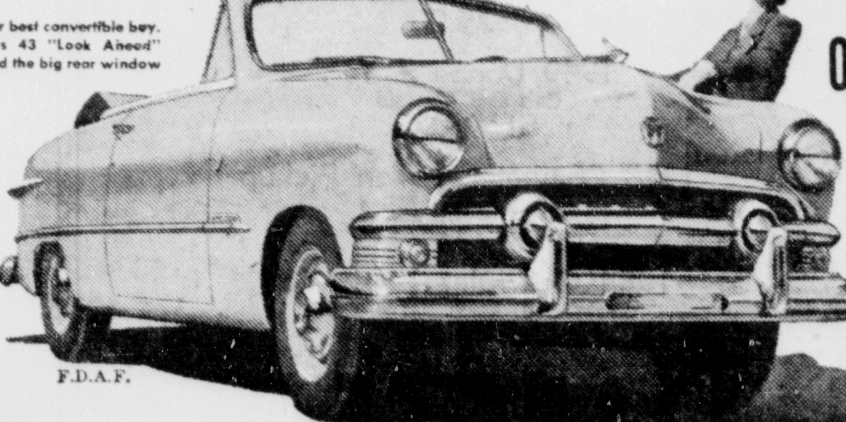

GOingest

Here, without a doubt, is your best convertible buy. For, like all Fords, it offers 43 "Look Ahead" features to keep it young. And the big rear window is standard at no extra cost.

Ford's "Country Squire" offers you the most spacious wagon for your money! It gives you the most all-in-one-level carrying space with over 9 feet of level load space... the most convenience with a "Stowaway" center seat!

Ford alone, in the low-price field, can give you the smoothest, savings, and tip of a V-8 engine... Ford alone can offer you a choice of V-8 or Six engines. And Ford's the only low-priced car that gives you your pick of three great drives: New Fordomatic, "Overdrive," and Conventional Drive!

Dick Wakefield Is Out

LAWTON, Okla., July 24—(P)—Dick Wakefield, former Detroit Tigers bonus player, last night left the Lawton Club of the class D Sooner state league after a week as "a $1-a-year" coach. Wakefield, whom the club retained in hopes of boosting attendance, left for his Ann Arbor, Mich., home. There had been little change in lagging gate receipts.

Fight Against Flood Plan On

Fayette County Would Be Included

Residents of the Delaware County village of Ostrander Tuesday renewed their fight against the proposed $65,000,000 Scioto-Sandusky Conservancy District flood control plan, which includes Fayette County.

Prosecutor Clyde Lewis of Delaware County, who several months ago unsuccessfully sought to have the 17-county district dissolved, said he will appeal a decision by the district's court approving the plan.

The district court voted nine to seven Friday for the plan.

Judge H. M. Rankin of Fayette County was among the seven judges casting dissenting votes on the proposal.

While Fayette County is included in the 17 counties, none of the dam projects are located in this county.

The Delaware County prosecutor and Luther Liggett, Union County prosecutor, contend the district judges did not have a complete record of both sides of the controversy.

Lewis said he would file an appeal with the court of appeals within the next 20 days on behalf of Ostrander area residents.

They are protesting specifically the proposed Mill Creek dam in Scioto Township of Delaware County, which would dislocate much of Ostrander.

The flood control program extends from Tiffin in the north on the Sandusky River to Chillicothe and Paint Creek in the south.

Under the program levees would be provided on the Scioto River in the Columbus area.

The program also includes a water supply reservoir on the Sandusky River above Bucyrus, and calls for dams on Deer Creek near Crownover's Mill, Big Darby Creek, Rocky Fork Creek, Paint Creek in Ross County and Mill Creek.

Federal restrictions on the proposed $65,000,000 program are expected to delay completion of the plan for several years.

Baby Found Dead At Trailer Home

Tommy Tennis, three-months-old son of Ephim and Dianna Xury Tennis, who live in a trailer home on the C. F. Highley farm on the CCC Highway, 1½ miles west of Washington C. H., was found dead in bed at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning.

Dr. Joseph M. Herbert, acting coroner, pronounced death due to suffocation.

The child had been sleeping on a cot outside of the trailer, and belief was expressed that a blanket had fallen over the baby accidentally.

The Tennis family and others have been occupying trailers on the Highley farm the past several weeks.

Committal services were held at the grave in the Washington C. H. Cemetery Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock.

dicade was interested in gambling operations there until the Senate committee exposed it with a hearing in Cleveland last January.

Although the casinos were said to be closed down now, Kefauver expressed doubt that the Cleveland group has disposed of its interests, as some witnesses have testified previously.

"As far as I know," said Kefauver, "they are still there. They may have gotten out, but I doubt it very much."

Suspect Is Held In Beating Case

Darel C. Riley, 29, Greenfield, has been held to the Highland County Grand Jury under $1,000 bond for assault with intent to kill Ralph B. Auten, 44, municipal water department employee at Greenfield.

Auten was found in a semi-conscious condition as the result of a severe beating. He was lying in a driveway near the municipal light plant.

Riley pleaded innocent to the charge, but admitted fighting with Auten, and claimed self defense.

Police said the stories of Riley and Auten regarding the fight were widely different.

Rains Interfere With Street Work

Rains over the weekend interfered with continuing the improvement of Lewis Street, where two blocks from Market Street to Paint Street have been rebuilt with exception of the top course of blacktop.

Work of laying the blacktop was to have been started Monday. It may be several days before the work is done, due to the series of rains.

Not only will the two blocks which have been rebuilt receive the final coat of blacktop, some 2½ inches in thickness, but the brick paving for two blocks north of Paint Street also is to be resurfaced.

The trophies were donated by the merchants of Fayette County, the agricultural association and other groups. The trophies will remain in the window until Wednesday.
